BEFORE THE GEORGIA PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION
GEORGIA POWER COMPANY
DOCKET NO. 29849

Data Request No. STF-142-4

Basis for the Assertion that Redacted Portions of the Information Submitted are Protected Trade Secrets

In response to Data Request STF-142-4, in Georgia Public Service Commission Docket No. 29849, Georgia Power Company ("Georgia Power" or the "Company") has provided Information (the "Information"). Certain provisions of the Information are trade secrets of Georgia Power, Southern Company, Oglethorpe Power Corporation, the Municipal Electric Authority of Georgia, and the City of Dalton (collectively the "Owners"), and their affiliates and contractors. These portions of the Information are protected under Commission Rule 515-3-1-.11.

The trade secret portions of the Information derive economic value from not being generally known to, and not being readily ascertainable by proper means by other persons who can obtain economic value from their disclosure or use. Public disclosure of the trade secret portions of the Information could give competitors and vendors an unfair advantage by showing the Company and its contractors' analyses, forecasts, plans, strategies and project configuration. The resulting economic harm could in turn impair Owners, Owners' affiliates and contractors, and Owners' customers.

More specifically, the trade secret portions of the Information that have been redacted contain estimates of cost impacts, analyses of risks, and forecasts that the Company and its contractors developed to forecast the cost of completing the Plant Vogtle Units 3 and 4 Project. This information is considered confidential and proprietary by the Company and its contractors and is not generally known by the public. If prospective vendors or subcontractors had access to these trade secret portions of the Information, the Company would be placed at an economic disadvantage because vendors or subcontractors could use of the information to inflate prices for construction services or materials to the detriment of the Company and its customers. In addition, disclosure of this information would expose the Company and its contractors' internal methods of assessing the cost and schedule for managing the construction of the Plant Vogtle Units 3 and 4 Project. These strategies were developed only after significant time and investment by the Company and its contractors.

Public release of the trade secret portions of the Information could have adverse economic consequences for the Company. Public release of the trade secret portions of the Information could make potential vendors unwilling or unable to conduct business with the Company. By causing the vendors' proprietary information to be publicly available, even fewer vendors might be willing to contract with the Company, thus, reducing the opportunity for the Company to procure the best options to meeting its customers' needs and potentially compelling the Company to deal with a vendor that does not offer the best cost option. This could cause significant added costs to the Company and ultimately to Georgia Power's customers.

The trade secret portions of the Information are subject to extensive efforts to maintain their secrecy. Only select Georgia Power and Southern Company personnel and their legal counsel are granted access to this information. Those personnel receive access only on a "need to know" basis. If a party outside Georgia Power and Southern Company and their legal counsel are granted access to the trade secret portions of the Information, the party is required to sign a confidentiality agreement.
