SYNOPSIS

The following changes are being made to Brantley's GSST:

A collection fee of $6.00 in addition to the late payment charge in 4.6.4.D. above will be applied to the accounts of residence subscribers with an unpaid balance when the previous month's bill has not been paid in full at the time of the billing due date. Based on current Customers, Brantley estimates the first-year net revenue impact to be [redacted]

A collection fee of $10.00 in addition to the late payment charge in 4.6.4.D. above will be applied to the accounts of business subscribers with an unpaid balance when the previous month's bill has not been paid in full at the time of the billing due date. Based on current Customers, Brantley estimates the first-year net revenue to be [redacted]

A convenience fee will apply to each credit/debit card transaction. This will include, but is not limited to, any credit/debit card payment made in the business office, over the phone, online or monthly draft payments. Customers will have the option to pay by checking account or cash with no additional fee. The convenience fee charge is 5 percent of the outstanding bill balance. Based on current Customers, Brantley estimates the first-year net revenue impact to be [redacted]

When service is temporarily suspended for non-payment of charges, the service will be restored upon payment of past-due charges, as discussed in Section 4 of this Tariff. In addition, a Restoration of Service Charge will be applied. The business rate for restoration of service is $25. Based on current Customers, Brantley estimates the first-year net revenue impact to be [redacted]

When service is temporarily suspended for non-payment of charges, the service will be restored upon payment of past-due charges, as discussed in Section 4 of this Tariff. In addition, a Restoration of Service Charge will be applied. The residential rate for restoration of service is $20. Based on current Customers, Brantley estimates the first-year net revenue impact to be [redacted]
