PUBLIC DISCLOSURE

Ten-Tear Transmission Plan

STF-DEA-8-1 There are several projects that did not carry over from the 2022 Ten-Year Plan (TYP) into the 2025 TYP. These projects are not on the cancelled project list provided in the 2025 TYP. The following projects have ISDs beyond 2025 and are not included in the 2025 TYP: 19611, 20005, 18492, 19997, 19991, 20067, 19623, 20000, 19599, 20019, 20020, 14222, 19628, 20003, 12063, 15228, 20004, 19187, 17993. Please provide reports or documentation that describe the status of each of those projects.

STF-DEA-8-2 Please identify all projects that were completed between the release of the 2022 TYP and the 2025 TYP. Please provide the project identification number, date of project completion, project cost, and any modifications between the project scope detailed in the 2022 TYP and the final project design.

STF-DEA-8-3 Please provide all procedure documents, planning manuals, processes, and all other material on how Georgia Power's transmission planning team conducts the Ten-Year Plan process. This includes assumptions based on powerflow analyses, load forecasting, and other location-based considerations around transmission planning infrastructure.

STF-DEA-8-4 From the 2025 IRP Main Document 11.3 Strategic Transmission, "A key component of an IRP is the ability to consider impacts to the transmission system when making generating resource decisions." Explain the separate transmission evaluations being made now. Does it also include large loads as well as generation?

STF-DEA-8-5 Please provide planning reports or any other documentation that best describes project progress from 2022 to present

STF-DEA-8-6 Other than the semiannual board meetings, please provide any outgoing material on project statuses and progress given to the stakeholders through meetings, email, etc. This can include memos, PowerPoint slides, and graphics.

STF-DEA-8-7 Please provide all semiannual board meeting presentation slides from 2022 to present. Some examples include board meetings materials, briefings etc. that best describe the detailed project status.

STF-DEA-8-8 Cancellations have grown in both count and dollar value between the 2022 and 2025 Ten-Year Plans. The 2022 TYP listed 9 cancelled projects, page 16, totaling roughly [redacted]. The 2025 TYP listed 30 cancelled projects, pages 23-25, totaling roughly [redacted].

a. Please provide a narrative explanation for why project cancellations have increased.

b. For each cancellation listed in the 2022 TYP, please describe the reason(s) and provide all related studies or documentation supporting the cancellation.

c. For each cancellation listed in the 2025 TYP, please describe the reason(s) and provide all related studies or documentation supporting the cancellation. If the cancelled project will be replaced by another project, provide the related studies or documentation.

d. Please identify any projects that were cancelled due to a change in status (e.g. cancellation or delay) of a proposed large load project. If the cancelled project will be replaced by another project, provide the related studies or documentation.

STF-DEA-8-9 Of the [redacted] in the 2025 plan (per page 23 of the 2025 TYP), roughly [redacted] is attributable to 216 projects that were not present in the 2022 plan at all. Please identify which of these new projects are driven, in whole or in part, by large load interconnection requests.

STF-DEA-8-10 Several of the largest new projects are 500kV lines (e.g., Hatch-Wadley 500kV, Ashley Park-Wansley 500kV, Cavender Drive-Wansley 500kV). For each of these projects, what specific load or generation initiated the need, and when was each first identified as necessary?

STF-DEA-8-11 Of the 107 projects in the 2022 plan, only 39 still appear as the same TEAMS numbered project in the 2025 plan.

a. Please confirm whether TEAMS numbers are ever reused or reassigned to a different project scope, and if so, provide the protocol for how that is tracked and disclosed.

b. If any of the projects from the 2022 TYP are listed under different TEAMS numbers in the 2025 TYP, please provide a reconciliation of the project numbering.

STF-DEA-8-12 If a project scope changes in any way, will the TEAMS number be maintained? What would cause a project's TEAMS number to change?

STF-DEA-8-13 For the projects that persist across both the 2022 TYP and 2025 TYP, cost estimates increased by more than [redacted] for many of them, including projects with the following TEAMS numbers: 18832, 18679, 19610, 18960, 20015, 19632, 19601, 19996, 19992, 20002, 18668. For each of these, please provide the historical cost estimate data and a brief narrative explanation for what specifically changed (e.g., scope, contingency, materials, etc.).

STF-DEA-8-14 In the 2022 TYP, Table 5, the load forecast contains no "Large Load" forecast category. The version of Table 5 in the 2025 TYP introduces a new "Large Load Forecast" column for each entity, separate from the general coincidence forecast. Please explain in what year this methodology was officially implemented and were there large loads embedded into the 2022 vintage?

STF-DEA-8-15 Across the 2025 TYP plan, most projects' "Supporting Statement" is phrased purely in electrical criteria terms (i.e., thermal overloads, voltage violations, contingency violations, etc.) with no reference to the specific load or customer driving the need. For projects being driven in whole or in part due to incremental large loads, please provide a supplemental supporting statement with the specific load or generation driver.

STF-DEA-8-16 Georgia Power's TYP project listings reference zone numbers in addition to TEAMS numbers (e.g., in project location or planning area designations.

a. Please describe the zone numbering methodology, including how zone boundaries are determined, how zone numbers are assigned to projects, and whether zone numbers or boundaries have changed between the 2022 TYP and 2025 TYP.

b. Please provide a supporting map showing all current transmission planning zones, their boundaries, and zone numbers.
